

and. It is satisfactory, however, to observe

Northern politicians to bring the war to England. It is satisfactory, however, to observe that some at least of the mercantile and trading classes are becoming alive to the probable consequences of the policy pursued by Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet. The Detroit Chamber of Commerce, at all events, cannot help seeing that all the arguments put forth in their very able paper on the threatened abrogation of the Blockade Treaty would be of tenfold force against a war bet-
